

Our experience with Languedoc Property Finders.

Myself and my wife have just completed the purchase of a house in Pezenas using the services of Languedoc Property Finders and Simon Kerridge. Our initial introduction was through the web site which we found an invaluable resource however it was the personal services of Simon and his attention to detail that ensured we found a great house and a hassle free purchase.

Prior to using the services of Simon we had explored numerous areas and looked at countless houses and as we live in Ireland we were somewhat daunted by the prospect of dealing with the French purchasing processes. Thankfully using the services of Simon and his team we were able to narrow our search down to one or two areas and eliminate wasteful and costly viewings. During the purchase process Simon kept us up to date on progress every day (always returning our calls and emails) and gave us brilliant advice on every aspect of the process. Following completion he helped us on some of the smaller complications like getting the various services set up, electricity, local services etc and putting us in contact with painters and plumbers.

Having experienced real professionalism and received expert advice and assistance I have no hesitation in recommending Simon and Languedoc Property Finders. They are extremely professional and I have no doubt that you won't be disappointed.
